EMAIL Migration-Reminder for All Personnel using Army accounts

All Army personnel have migrated to Enterprise E-mail with the new extension *@mail.mil. This means that all Army personnel will need to log into the DMDC Website below to record this email migration. It is critical to mission accomplishment for all Army personnel and those who are on the army network backbone to enter and maintain that data within the DMDC website.

All Federal Technician personnel and supervisors of Federal technicians MUST enter the DCPDS Portal MYBIZ MY Workplace application and update their email in the profile page of their online Self-service accounts for the PAA application to work and to receive DCPDS System mass email notifications from NGB-TN.

NOTE: There are other websites and applications that personnel should log onto and verify/update their Email addresses within the profile pages of these applications. Listed below, but not limited to, are the most important website:

DMDC: <https://www.dmdc.osd.mil/milconnect>

DCPDS Portal: <https://comp.dcpds.cpms.osd.mil>

MYPAY: <https://mypay.dfas.mil/mypay.aspx>

TSP Quarterly Highlights Update

For updated information including Rates of Return go to: <https://www.tsp.gov/forms/newsletterArchive.shtml>.

TSP Catch-Up Contributions

Federal employees who participate in the Thrift Savings Plan and will turn age 50 during the year are eligible to make TSP Catch-Up Contributions. "Catch-Up contributions" are supplemental tax-deferred contributions that employees age 50 or older (or turning age 50 during the calendar year) can make to the TSP beyond the maximum amount they can contribute through regular contributions.

To be eligible to make catch-up contributions, you must be:

- Age 50 or older anytime during the calendar year in which the catch-up contributions are being made (even if you become age 50 on December 31 of this year);
- Currently employed and in Pay Status;
- Making regular contributions to a civilian or uniformed services TSP account (or both), and/or an equivalent employer plan (such as 401 (k), 403 (b), or 408 plan), that will equal the maximum allowed by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). See <https://www.tsp.gov/> for the current year's limit.

You are not eligible to make catch-up contributions (or regular contributions) within 6 months of making a financial hardship withdrawal from the TSP, nor while in a "non-pay" status.

Please visit the TSP website: <https://www.tsp.gov/> for additional information regarding catch-up contributions.

National Severe Weather Storm Preparedness Week

National Severe Weather Storm Preparedness Week will be March 3rd through 9th, 2013.

Prepare for Unpredictable Spring Weather

Spring weather can be unpredictable. When severe weather hits unexpectedly, the risk of injury and death increases, so planning ahead makes sense. Prepare for storms, floods, and tornadoes as if you know in advance they are coming, because in the spring, they very likely will.

Spring is the time of year when many things change-including the weather. Temperatures can swing back and forth between balmy and frigid. Sunny days may be followed by a week of stormy weather. Sometimes extreme weather changes can occur even within the same day. Mark Twain once said, "In the spring I have counted one hundred and thirty-six kinds of weather inside of four and twenty hours." Thunderstorms cause most of the severe spring weather. They can bring lightning, tornadoes and flooding. Whenever warm, moist air collides with cool, dry air, thunderstorms can occur. For much of the world, this happens in spring and summer.

Because spring weather is so unpredictable, you may be unprepared when severe weather hits-particularly if you live in a region that does not often experience thunderstorms, tornadoes, or flooding. When severe weather hits unexpectedly, the risk of injury and death increases. So planning ahead makes sense; prepare for storms, floods, and tornadoes as if you know in advance they are coming, because in the spring, they very likely will.

Advance planning for thunderstorms, lightning, tornadoes and floods requires specific safety precautions. Still, you can follow many of the same steps for all extreme weather events. You should have on hand:

- A battery-operated flashlight, NOAA Weather Radio and extra batteries for both
- An emergency evacuation plan, including a map of your home for every type of severe weather emergency and routes to safety from each room
- A list of important personal information, including:
  - telephone numbers of neighbors, family and friends
  - Insurance and property information
  - telephone numbers of utility companies
  - medical information
- A first aid kit including:
  - prescription medication
  - hydrogen peroxide
  - antibiotic ointment
  - over-the-counter medicines such as aspirin and diarrhea medicine
  - bandages and dressings for injuries
- A 3-5 day supply of bottled water and nonperishable food
- Personal hygiene items
- Blankets or sleeping bags
- An emergency kit in your car

Prepare your family members for the possibility of severe weather. Tell them where to seek appropriate shelter as soon as they are aware of an approaching storm. Practice your emergency plan for every type of severe weather. Show family members where the emergency supplies are stored, and make sure they know how to turn off the water, gas and electricity in your home.

Unfortunately, few of us get much advance notice of a severe weather event. Often by the time we are aware of an approaching storm, we have little if any time to prepare for it. But we do know that when spring arrives, thunderstorms, tornadoes, and floods are real possibilities. So why not take the surprise factor out of severe weather and prepare yourself, your family, and your home for severe weather? Of course, you may not have to deal with extreme weather this spring, but if thunderstorms, tornadoes, and floods do occur, you'll be ready for them.

Hertha Beese- Berlin Housewife and Social Democrat

The month of March is Women's History month and April 8th is Holocaust Remembrance Day as well as Days of Remembrance (7-14 April). Bertha Scholz Beese is an example of great strength and heroism from a woman at a time when many could not or would not help others who were desperately in need of someone's assistance. Below is a brief history about Mrs. Beese and what she did for some of the Jewish people who were persecuted during World War II.

Hertha Scholz Beese was born in Berlin, Germany September 10, 1902 into a non-Jewish German family. Her parents were active in the Social Democratic Party (SPD) and trade unions. Hertha attended schools in Berlin, pre-World War I with Jews and Catholics. She was forced to participate in Protestant religious instruction of the Landeskirche because she was not baptized. In 1933, she and other SPD members lost their jobs. She describes Nazi persecution of Socialists and Communists as well as Jews. Her resistance group, one of the more than 20 in Berlin, hid people until they could cross the mountains into Switzerland. She details sheltering Jews and non-Jews in her home. She testifies to the beating of her brother by SA storm troopers, prior to 1933, and the terrorization of non-Jewish Berliners. In Berchtesgaden, she observed resentment of local residents toward the SS and the exploitation of German laborers. She describes her refusal to fly the Nazi flag, her children's refusal to join the Hitler Youth, and the devious means she used to avoid serving in the Luftschutz. She had to work in the Arbeitsdienst from 1943 to 1945 as a teacher in the Spreewald area. She also worked illegally as a bookkeeper for Jewish cattle dealers who were SPD members who joined the Nazi party to avoid deportation. A local farmer hid several Jewish Berliners she brought to him. She became vice-chair of the Brandenburg SPD in 1945, chaired an anti-fascist commission in Potsdam, and was deputy mayor of Reinickendorf, 1948-1965. She was honored with the Golden Rose of Paris for aid to French prisoners of war and was declared an "Elder Statesman" of Berlin.

The Holocaust Education & Archive Research Team collected quotes from women on their accounts of the Holocaust. A quote from Hertha Beese, "In the flat underneath ours lived a Jewish Family. The only reason they had not yet been persecuted and taken away was that the father was Italian and belonged to Mussolini's party. But when we ourselves faced more and more difficulties the wife began to feel insecure and was scared that they might take her away despite the Italian connection and she therefore left. So that there flat became empty and I begged that it should not be handed over to the landlord since we still hoped there would be a total collapse and we would be rid of our difficulties. I looked after the empty flat and one night, it must have been around midnight, the doorbell rang. I opened and there stood in front of me a Jewish couple. This was how I began to help persecuted Jews. All of a sudden I had entered an invisible circle of people who smuggled Jews about. As soon as one hiding place had been detected they were quickly passed on. They would always move about by night. I have never found out who it was who sent them to me in the first place. Some decent people.

The problems started with the feeding of the Jewish people since they neither had food-rationing cards nor very often any money. So we in turn had to make use of friends who exchanged their smoking cards for the odd potato or bread, or a friend would come and leave a bit of food. But all this was so illegal that names, sources or contacts had to remain unknown."

Memo to Adjutant General's Department staff from MG Lee Tafarielli:

Memo

To: Kansas National Guard members/Adjutant General's Dept. staff
From: MG Lee Tafarielli
Date: February 20, 2013
Re: Possible sequestration effects on some federal employees and our agency

You have likely been following the ongoing debate in Congress about the best way for our nation to resolve a series of economic events that may lead to sequestration (i.e. across-the-board reductions in federal spending). This debate is the result of the Budget Control Act of 2011 and would make the cuts automatically take effect in March 2013 unless Congress votes to change this.

What does this mean for us? If sequestration happens, the Kansas National Guard and Kansas Adjutant General's Department can anticipate a reduction in overall federal funding for the remainder of the federal fiscal year (September 30, 2013).

This reduction in federal funds may affect our federal workforce, primarily our technicians and our federal civilians, by requiring furloughs of two days per pay period beginning in the second half of April 2013 through the end of the fiscal year. The decision to potentially furlough some federal employees is one the Department of Defense has indicated they will take if sequestration occurs, but nothing has been finalized yet.

It is important to note that these potential furloughs depend entirely on decisions yet to be made, but decisions that appear possible; therefore, I want to ensure you have the best information available and I will continue to update you as new information becomes available. Before a decision is made by Department of Defense regarding furloughs, DoD will provide guidance to inform us of the exact way sequestration will affect our federal employees and our agency, but it is simply too early to know those details at this time.

Federal funds, which support our emergency management and homeland security efforts, would not likely be immediately affected, but sequestration may require us to adjust funding prior to the new fiscal year since sequestration could reduce funding for an extended period of time. We would anticipate Department of Homeland Security to offer guidance which would assist us in determining how best to fulfill our responsibilities supported by federal funds.

I have been working diligently for the past two years to plan for potential budget cuts due to our nation's challenged economy. At that time, I put together a leadership team that has studied the budget challenges and taken a number of actions already to further reduce the impact to the agency.

I am committed to finding and implementing a strategy to mitigate the effects these federal reductions may have on you, our agency and our mission.

I realize this is a very challenging time and I will continue to provide additional details as soon as any decisions are made and as additional guidance is provided by Department of Defense.

Thank you for your patience in what I know is an extremely difficult time. You have my word that as I learn about emerging DoD/NGB fiscal plans, I will do my very best to let you know as quickly as possible.

V/R,

Lee E. Tafarielli
Major General, KSNG
The Adjutant General
